Project Topic DPR 141

1, I would like to build some kind of e-commerce website where I showcase different products/merchandise that I like. Give information and personal reviews.

2. My target audience will be people looking up these said products for information

3. I created a similar website in imm120, but it wasn't very responsive.. nor complete. I had a main page. and 3 other categories of technology.

4. I want to do a similar idea for my app. Something informative for people to read and get a perspective on merchandise.

5. Same as my website. This would be targeted for people into technology and gadgets

6. I have used app inventor before for DPR 101. My final project was a simple trivia game. I had 4 different screens. One for each question. The user really had no control over which screen they were on, all they could do was select the answers. Other than that I have no experience with apps.
